VALUABLE LANDS TO BE AUCTIONED

500,000 Acres to be Sold at Auction

BIG SALE IS EXPECTED

Twenty-Six Counties will be Covered and Prospective Buyers of the Rich Lands are Numerous—Sale will be Held at Court House in this City on Friday, May 6th.

On Friday, May 6th, State Auditor Iverson will offer for sale at public auction in this city some 15,000 acres of school land which will be knocked off to the highest bidder as is provided for by law. This sale is but one of a series that is being held in the northern part of the state and in all nearly 500,000 acres will be offered for sale. This vast amount of land is almost an empire in itself and the lands, nearly all of which are located in Northern Minnesota are fertile and rich.

All this land has been surveyed and appraised and in many places the rush to get a piece of Minnesota dirt is heralded by the large number of inquiries for maps and information regarding the territory. In many instances these inquiries come from far off states where the prospective buyer has heard of the great North Star state and seeing the list of advertised lands that has been running in every newspaper in the country in which the land is situated, is hastening to get in on the ground floor. The sales in every instance is held at the county seat and in all 26 counties will be covered.

It may be generally known—the average Minnesotan is woefully ignorant in this respect, says the Duluth News-Tribune, but Minnesota has more than 5,000,000 acres of land, the ownership of which is vested in the state and federal governments, and which is subject to entry. Of this amount 3,000,000 is state school land.

It is the school land which Mr. Iverson will offer for sale beginning this week. Under the law the least it can be sold for is $5 an acre, with a maximum of 320 acres to each purchaser. While $5 is the maximum figure, the appraisals in the majority of cases run higher. It cannot be sold under the appraisal price.

A majority of it is swamp. This may not appeal to some, but with immense ditches now under construction and its drainage only a question of a short time, the wet feature will soon be eliminated. However, there are thousands of acres of this land high and dry. At previous sales some of this land brought as high as $25 an acre.

The sale terms are the most liberal possible, only 15 per cent of the purchase price having to be paid down, the balance to run 40 years at 4 per cent if the purchaser desires it. If the principal is paid in 10 years the rate of interest is 5 per cent. Like the sale terms, the purchase requirements are equally liberal. Five years are given in which to comply with the following conditions:

Fence at least 25 per cent of the tract for pasture and convert such into pasture land.

Cultivate at least 5 per cent of the tract.

Build a house and actually reside on the tract for a period of 12 months.

In all sales the state reserves the mineral rights, likewise the standing timber if there is any. The two must be sold separate.

One of the odd things of the sale this year is the disposal of 592 acres of school land located in Winona county. Among the oldest counties in the state and one of the most populous, it is hard to believe that the land seeker would have overlooked anything in that locality, but the books show that the state owns the amount named and that it is among the best land in the state. It has never been on the market before.

MONSTER AEROPLANE.

Parseval Launches New Flier With a 120 Horse Power Motor.

The biggest aeroplane yet constructed, the invention of Major von Parseval, underwent successful preliminary trials the other day on the surface of Lake Plau, in Germany.

The new flier is a monoplane with a four cylinder motor of 120 horsepower. It carries 170 pounds of benzine and, it is calculated, will remain in the air for three hours. The breadth of the planes is forty-five and one-half feet, and the length of the machine from back to front is forty-five feet. It is provided with torpedo-like floats for descending on the water and wheels for land.

SENATOR ALDRICH.

FOR BIG POLITICAL UNION

Samuel Gompers Proposes Plan to Farmers.

St. Louis, May 5.—A plan for a political union of the American Federation of Labor and the Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative union of America is being worked out at a conference between labor union and farmers' union officials in this city, coincident with the farmers' rally now in progress.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is behind the movement. He, with Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, and twenty other labor officials, has been in executive session with the farmers' executive committee for the past three days and it was announced that his plan probably will be endorsed.

Gompers denies any intention of forming a new political party through an amalgamation of the farmers' unions with the American Federation of Labor. His plan, he says, is to induce the farmer to be partisan in principle and not in party. He hopes, he says, to induce the agriculturists of the country to nominate and elect men favorable to the betterment of labor conditions, regardless of political affiliation.

Just what formal action will be taken by the two committees is not known. The sessions are expected to continue through the week.

VOTES TO CREATE OFFICE

New Mayor Appoints Man His Constituents Opposed.

Aberdeen, S. D., May 5.—Dr. H. J. Rock was inaugurated as mayor of Aberdeen and made appointments for the ensuing term, including those of city attorney, C. N. Harris; chief of police, W. T. Elliott, and city detective, C. E. Zirbes. Although the new mayor announced after election that he would make a "clean sweep," he reconsidered, and the city auditor, water commissioner and building inspector and assessor were reappointed.

The only contest of any consequence was that over city detective. Zirbes resigned as chief of police and left for the Pacific coast a short time before the city election. A number of residents of the city, who were opposed to Zirbes' retention of the office, fought Mayor Aldrich for reelection and supported Dr. Rock, on the Zirbes issue.

When the mayor made the appointment a Democratic alderman raised the point that there was no such position as city detective provided for under the city ordinances. The mayor, with the council tied, then voted to create the office.

Patrolman Fatally Beaten.

Duluth, April 26.—Harry Wilcox, patrolman for the Oliver Iron Mining company, lies in a dying condition at the Malmgren hospital at Virginia, a victim of an assault by seven men, supposed to be Montenegrins. Several arrests have been made. Just what led to the assault has not been learned because of the serious condition of Wilcox.

China's National Tree.

The tung or wood oil tree is worthily named the national tree of China. It is stately in appearance, with smooth green bark and wide-spreading branches, affording a fine shade. It bears a fruit resembling a shellbark hickory nut, but as large as a small orange. Each nut contains three triangular seeds similar to small Brazil nuts. The oil is pressed from these seeds, and the refuse is used as a fertilizer. The oil is used principally for polishing woodwork and dressing leather. Considerable quantities are exported. The wood of the tung tree is used for making musical instruments, fine boxes and the framework of small houses. It is free from ravages of insects.—New York Tribune.

MEANS FAILURE OF TAFT POLICIES

Aldrich Warns Regulars Against Senate Combine.

CONFERENCE IS BELLIGERENT

Regulars Meet and Decide to Stand Together as a Unit Against Every Progressive Proposition That They Do Not Like, but Will Adopt as Their Own Any Suggestion That Is Good.

Washington, May 5.—Through the formation of an organization, which its leaders claim represents a clear majority of the entire senate, and to be made up wholly of Republicans of the "regular" wing, a movement was started with intent to settle the question whether the senate shall remain conservative, become radical or be thrown into political chaos so far as concerns any coherent policy in regard to the administration's legislative programme.

Senator Aldrich called the "regular" Republicans together and confronted them with a grim description of the possible political effect of their apparent defeat at the hands of the progressive Republicans and Democrats in the fight over the traffic agreement section of the administration railroad bill. He asked his associates whether they were ready to submit to domination by such a combination. Any such surrender, he warned them, meant the failure of the Taft policies and the downfall of conservative control, not only in congress, but in the Republican party generally.

Some one reminded Senator Aldrich that senators then and there gathered together were not in agreement on all points, whereupon he replied that they must get together and let the details be secondary. Otherwise, he said, congress would adjourn without a single item of the Taft programme accomplished.

The entire tone of this conference was belligerent toward the progressives.

This was the dominant note: "Let us get together and stand as a unit against every progressive proposition. If the progressives propose anything good, we'll take it over bodily and put it through as our own; but if they propose anything bad, we'll stamp it out."

Taft Advised of Situation.

It was stated without reservation that President Taft had been kept fully advised of the situation and was entirely in sympathy with the plan and virtually pledged to it. It was said in behalf of the conference that while the measures which would be resorted to were heroic they were necessary in defense of the administration and the integrity of the Republican party.

To Senator Aldrich was given the leadership of the new movement. He left for Rhode Island and will not return before Tuesday. The plan is meanwhile to "mark time" and endeavor to "hold the fort" while there will be many conferences, at the White House and elsewhere, and the details of the militant plan will be perfected.

The intention is to avoid test votes on any subject of importance until next week.

Every hour brings additional evidence of the widening breach between the regulars and the progressives in both houses. Conservative Republican leaders with hardly an exception confess that in neither is there at present a coherent majority. Even those unfamiliar as yet with the plans of the new senate organization seen to be awaiting the return of President Taft to Washington to see what, if anything, he can and will do to induce or to compel action sufficiently harmonious to get at least some remnants of his programme through congress. As matters stand the prospect from the Republican point of view is anything but alluring.

Meanwhile the Democrats in both houses are looking on with a "go it husband, so it be" expression.

They say that "which ever loses, we win," or as Senator Bailey put it the other day on the floor: "The only policy we have in this affair is to keep both of you fellows irritated."

Heavy Damage From Frost.

Madison, Wis., May 5.—In his first monthly crop report for 1910, Secretary John M. True of the state board of agriculture says the disastrous freezes of April 17 and 22 killed nearly all fully matured blossoms of apples, cherries and plums, seriously injuring the chances of crops of bush fruits and strawberries, and killed the leaves and young shoots upon forest trees.

Open Fort Berthold Reservation.

Washington, May 5.—The house passed the Hanna-Gronna bill opening to settlement approximately 800,000 acres of land in the Fort Berthold reservation in North Dakota. An amendment was incorporated in the measure prohibiting the sale of liquor on the lands until congress otherwise so directs.

ALIENISTS UNABLE TO REACH DECISION

Family Worried Over His Condition But Hope for Improvement in Very Few Days

FINANCIERS OF NEW YORK SKEPTICAL AS TO OUTCOME

News Startles Nation's Moneyed Men.—All Classes Are Much Interested

New York, May 5.—(Special to The Dispatch.)—The mental condition of John D. Rockefeller has caused his family much anxiety and concern of late. Specialists have been in all day, and have not as yet been able to determine whether or not their noted patient is affected with givomania in a mild form.

Mr. Rockefeller's condition is the cause of much comment in financial circles down town, many prominent financiers being very skeptical as to the probable outcome of the "Oil King's trouble."

PRESIDENT TAFT IS DEEPLY GRATIFIED

Action of Regular Senators Pleases Him.

St. Louis, May 5.—President Taft was deeply gratified at the news from Washington that forty-three Republican senators have agreed to stand together on the administration railroad bill as amended by the dropping of the so called "pooling" and "merger" paragraphs. He refrained, however, from commenting on the situation, except to say that he hoped this combination in the senate would pull the bill through in good shape.

The question of the possible veto of the measure, if it comes out of congress in further emasculated form, was broached to the president, but he declined also to discuss that phase of the matter.

If the bill as finally passed contains an element of good or what can be called a step forward in clinching the Roosevelt policies, President Taft will sign it. On the other hand, if the bill is loaded down in the house with a lot of provisions which will seem to hamper the railroads in carrying on a lawful business, it is more than probable that Mr. Taft will exercise the power of veto.

If he signs a bill which gives him a part of what he has asked for, he will likely issue a statement placing the blame where he thinks it belongs for the failure to get more.

If he vetoes the bill because of radical additions which he deems unjust, the president will make his statement even stronger.

After a careful study of the situation in Washington the president may decide to discuss the status of the railroad legislation in the speech he is scheduled to make before the Passaic, N. J., board of trade next Monday evening—at least that is his present intention.

Referee Not Selected.

San Francisco, May 5.—After half an hour's wrangling at Jack Johnson's training quarters on the ocean beach promoters and principals of the Jeffries-Johnson fight came to a deadlock over the choice of a referee. It finally was decided to postpone the selection of that official until May 16.

Muscle and Music.

A story used to be told of Paderewski that he could crack a bone of French plate glass half an inch thick merely by placing one hand upon it as if upon a piano keyboard and striking it sharply with his middle finger. Chopin's last study in C minor has a passage which takes two minutes and five seconds to play. The total pressure brought to bear on this, it is estimated, is equal to three full tons. The average "tonnage" of an hour's piano playing of Chopin's music varies from twelve to eighty-four tons.

ARMY ENGINEERS TO TAKE CHARGE

May Supervise Irrigation Work in the West.

APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT

Chief Executive Favors Plan Embodied in a Bill That Has Passed the House. Might End Trouble Between Officers of the Reclamation Service and Secretary of the Interior Ballinger.

Washington, May 5.—If a bill that has just passed the house is enacted into law the great government irrigation projects now building in the West will be placed under the supervision of engineer officers of the army. The plan has the approval of President Taft and was proposed as a means of ending the troubles between officers of the reclamation service and Secretary Ballinger, the head of the interior department.

There has been criticism and defense of the reclamation service since Secretary Ballinger assumed office. On the stand before the congressional investigating committee last Saturday the secretary gave some idea of the conflict of authority which has been raging, a conflict which Mr. Ballinger says would have been settled had he not had his "hands up for months" through the general attacks on himself which he has been obliged to defend.

To the committee the secretary portrayed a state of affairs which showed him and Director Newell to be virtually deadlocked over a question of authority.

While there has been official denial of such reports no doubt is expressed here that Director Newell will ultimately be separated from the service. When intimations of this character got abroad some time ago there were suggestions that if Director Newell were forced to retire he would be followed out by practically every engineer engaged in irrigation work for the government.

To Assign Army Officers.

It was then that the suggestion was made that authority should be obtained from congress to assign army officers to duty on irrigation projects. The measure through which the president hopes to receive authority to enable him to detail army engineers wherever there are government engineering projects is the bill to increase the efficiency of engineers of the United States army. The bill is designed primarily to provide an increase of sixty officers for the engineer corps by the year 1916, making the number 248 instead of 188, as at present, and contains a proviso whereby the president may extend the usefulness of the corps.

It is understood that the plan proposed is similar to the system which prevails at present in the department of dams and locks on the navigable rivers, which are under the control of the war department. One engineer will be assigned to the supervision of the construction of all the reservoirs and canals which are at present under way and will have authority to enter into contracts and see that they are executed.

Whether this officer will be detailed to the interior department or will act under the control of the war department as the river and harbor engineers at present is a question which naturally will arise as soon as the departure shall have been authorized by congress.

No doubt there will be some reluctance on the part of the army to detail its men to another department. The administration of the reclamation department will have to remain, of necessity, in the hands of the interior department, however, and it is, therefore, likely that a plan of turning the entire construction of the departments over to the war department will not prevail.

AFFECTS SOUTH DAKOTA CASE

Ruling of Land Office on Homestead Law.

Washington, May 5.—A decision has been rendered by the general land office which will be of interest to those seeking homes on the public domain, especially in connection with the public land openings of the past year. Under the law a soldier who has served more than ninety days during the Civil war, Spanish war or Philippine insurrection and was honorably discharged, may file a homestead declaratory statement in person or by agent and thereafter is allowed six months within which to make his formal homestead entry and establish residence.

During the six months' period, and prior to the making of formal entry by the soldier, anyone qualified may make homestead entry of the land subject to the soldier's rights, which entry attaches to and reserves the land in the event the soldier fails to assert his right within the time allowed, but should the soldier duly make entry, the intervening entry becomes subject to cancellation.

The decision of the department was rendered in a case involving a homestead entry in South Dakota.

MRS. LOGAN SWOPE TESTIFIES

Her Testimony Closes the Case for the State.

Kansas City, May 5.—Several hundred people used physical force, cajolery and friendship to pry their way into the criminal courtroom to hear Mrs. Logan O. Swope give a synopsis of the Swope tragedies. Her testimony closed the state's case.

Only once did Mrs. Swope appear to be affected. This was when she was telling of Dr. Hyde informing her shortly after James Moss Hutton's death that Colonel Swope could not live long. Mrs. Swope did not attack Dr. Hyde nor his wife. They sat directly in front of her and she looked them both in the eyes several times. In return she received stares.

The whole situation between the two families was summed up when the following conversation took place during Mrs. Swope's cross-examination.

"You told Mrs. Hyde when she left your house on Dec. 18 last that you hoped she would come back, and she said she would return only when you invited her husband, I believe?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"That is exactly what happened," answered Mrs. Swope.

OFFICIAL FIGURES ARE NOT GIVEN OUT

Census Director Denies Published Stories.

Washington, May 5.—In a denial of a number of published stories giving what purported to be estimates of the population of some of the cities of the United States, as shown by the new census, C. Dana Durand, director of the census, declared emphatically that no "official announcement of the population of any city or state in the United States or of the United States as a whole will be made for some time to come, and further that the fact that the returns from the enumerators have not yet been received emphasizes the impossibility of any official statement or even estimate being given at this time."

It will be several months at least, he added, before any final count will be made of the population of any place and several months before the complete population of the United States can be given out. The enumerators and supervisors, he pointed out, are prohibited from giving out any information.

"Before the official statement of the population of any place can be given out," he said, "the schedules must be examined to see whether they are in proper shape, the enumerators must be paid on the basis of the number of names returned, a card for each separate person must be punched, and these cards must be tabulated by means of the machines. It will therefore be impossible for the bureau to obtain the population of any city completely for several weeks to come."

It is expected the first announcement will be made about the first of June. There is no prospect of an announcement of the population of the entire United States before August or September.

DINED BY KING AND QUEEN

Americans the Guests of Honor at a Dinner Given by the Rulers of Norway—More Than Two Hundred Prominent Personages Attend Function—Toasts Drunk to Health of the Roosevelts and the King and Queen.

Christiania, May 5.—Haakon VII, king of Norway, and Queen Maud were the first to greet former President Roosevelt on his arrival here. Colonel Roosevelt presented Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel and Kermit and the party then proceeded to the palace.

The streets of Christiania are bright with decorations and almost every one is wearing an American flag. A Roosevelt march, Roosevelt photographs and compilations of Roosevelt's sayings are being sold in the shops and on the highways.

The king and queen gave a dinner at the palace in honor of their American guests. More than 200 of the most eminent personages in Norway were present, including the premier and cabinet ministers, the leaders of the various political parties, literary people, financiers and the representatives of the most distinguished Norwegian life. Four state chairs were placed at the principal table, and, after all the others of the company were standing at their places, the king appeared with Mrs. Roosevelt on his arm, Colonel Roosevelt following with the queen.

When the dinner had advanced to the fourth course the king arose and all the guests stood.

"It is with great pleasure," said the king, "that I welcome you, Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, here, in the name of the queen and myself, and extend you our hospitality. I do not speak in my own name alone, but am convinced that it is in the name of all Norwegians. The reception given you will convince you of the truth of my words. As you know, we are all grateful that, although your time is limited, you have been able to come to Norway. Many Norwegians live in America and, although American subjects, they are Norwegians at heart. I feel it such and therefore we feel particularly pleased to have this opportunity of offering our hospitality to some eminent American citizen."

Toast to the United States.

"I express the hope that you will get the impression during your stay in Christiania that real feelings of true friendship and relationship between the United States and Norway exist here and I hope that these feelings will continue for all time. I drink a toast to the United States and I drink a toast to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt."

The company remained standing while the former president responded.

"It is a particular pleasure for me to be in Norway," he said, "and I have been deeply impressed with my generous reception. Norwegians have made such good citizens in the United States that I once remarked to a group of traveling Norwegians that I rather grudgingly that they had left anybody in Norway."

"As your majesty has said, the Norwegians in America love the land of their birth and they love the country of their adoption. A man can love his wife all the better if he loves his mother a great deal."

Colonel Roosevelt touched on Norse literature and spoke of his pleasure when, as president, he was able to cable his good wishes to a new Norwegian king bearing the old name of Haakon. "And," he continued, "it is a fine thing for the country that Haakon and Olaf should be the names borne by the ruler of today and the ruler of tomorrow."

He turned directly to the king and queen and said:

"I hope that their majesties, who seem to do all things well, will see to it that the small Olaf knows the Helmskringla thoroughly. I drink with my whole heart to the health of your majesties."

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN FIGHT

Councilmen of East Grand Forks Are Enjoined.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 5.—Another chapter in the fight that is being waged between the city council and the water and light commission appointed by a former administration, developed when an injunction was served on the councilmen by the commissioners. The councilmen are ordered to appear before Judge Watts at Crookston next Monday and show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted. The action also asks for a permanent injunction, the hearing on which will come up at the June term of district court.

automobile, arriving at 5:30 at the Ransford. They left Duluth at 12:30

E. K. Woodin, of Emily, presented an application for the return of four months of his liquor license money, two months being for the time he was closed last fall to remove his building the proper distance from the school house and two months since saloons were voted out in March. A motion was made and duly carried to reimburse him from March 8th, the date of the election, to May 5th, when his license expires.

County Attorney Fleming brought up the case of the town of Allen and called attention to the complaints that the town officers had been squandering the town money. A letter from the attorney general on the subject was also referred to and the board decided to call on the public examiner for an examination of the books of this town.

The Fisher-Vaughn company presented the only bid for laying tile floor in the corridor of the court house, the amount being $585.41. The board considered this too expensive to put in an old building and the bid was therefore rejected and the auditor directed to advertise for a

The engineer's final acceptance of A. D. Peterson's contract No. 1 on State road No. 3 was read before the board. Upon motion the same was laid on the table until the next meeting, and Commissioner Poppenberg was appointed a committee to examine said work and report at the next meeting.

It was decided to put in a new concrete culvert on state road No. 1 across ditch No. 2 near Paul Pepin's place, and the auditor was directed to advertise for bids for the work to be received May 14th at 2 o'clock.

Word was received from the county board of Cass county that Cass county would contribute $100 toward the road on the county line west of Jenkins. None of the board were conversant with the necessities of the case and therefore no action was taken.

Headache is said to be the most useful pain in the world. It is a sort of fire alarm that warns you of something wrong with some organ of the body.

There is no cure for bilious headache, torpid liver and indigestion that can be compared to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills for prompt and certain results. This has been proven by so many thousands of letters published from time to time that everybody should know it by this time.

You won't be satisfied with mere temporary relief when you know your headache can be completely cured by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Cherub Devine

By SEWELL FORD

Copyright, 1909, by Mitchell Kennerley

"I trust we have known each other long enough, Adele, for me to offer a friendly suggestion. But if you resent such—"

"Oh, no! Go on, Nicholas. What else about Mr. Devine?"

Young Mr. Walloway flushed under the subtle mockery of her eyes.

"Nothing more, countess," and he bowed stiffly, "only I did not know that you considered Mr. Devine—a—"

The countess laughed lightly. "Oh, I've told him he wasn't."

"You—you said that to the Cherub?"

The countess nodded.

"And he—what did he—"

"He said he had never claimed to be a gentleman."

"Ah!" Young Mr. Walloway seemed to have gained a new viewpoint. His exclamation was one of relief. Now he could understand the attitude of the countess toward Cherub Devine. It was merely an impersonal interest which she had taken in a somewhat picturesque public character whom she had chanced to see at close range.

"I beg pardon for my suggestion," he went on. "I see you know the Cherub better than I thought. Interesting chap, isn't he? He has his good points, too—oh, really, has a code of honor all his own that he sticks to as faithfully as if it were—well, the accepted code. And he is generosity itself to those whom he fancies."

"Is he, indeed?"

There was an encouraging note in her tone.

"Oh, extreme! Now, in the matter of buying those shares, they were never actually quoted at that figure, you know, but he needed them very badly, and he fixed the price accordingly, whereas he might have purchased them for a fifth as much and still paid you the highest market rate."

"Then he practically makes me a gift of this?" And the countess fluttered the pink cheek disdainfully.

"Oh, no! Had I been selling the shares for you, knowing how badly he needed them, I could have forced him to pay even more. No, it was a business transaction, but generosity was displayed none the less. And his offer to hand over Hewington Acres at your own terms—that is another example. Of course he doesn't want the place on his hands, but he could readily dispose of it at a profit. Evidently he wishes you to retain possession, however."

"So it would appear," mused the countess. "I wonder why?"

Nicholas pursed his lips quizzically.

"I suppose it has not occurred to you that he might be—well, interested in you?"

The countess eyed him with cool unconcern.

"I'm afraid you are making rather an impudent guess, Mr. Walloway."

"But it's no guess. Devine told me himself—that is, he as good as confessed as much."

Her calm pose was ruffled. Color flashed into her cheeks betrayingly.

"Do you mean to imply that he talked to you of—of me?" she demanded.

"Well, I will admit that I drew him out. I could see it plain enough, you know, and when I asked him he didn't attempt to deny, although he did have the grace to protest his own unworthiness. Good of him, wasn't it? Oh, yes, he has improved the opportunities you gave him! He has had the audacity to fall in love with you, countess. My congratulations on your conquest!"

He held his head at a knowing angle. "Then why did he send you here to-day instead of coming himself?"

"Unaccountable. Perhaps he flunked at the last moment. He may have thought you would not accept his favors if offered directly, so he asked me to come. Me! Isn't that rich?"

"In just what way?" And so quietly did she ask it that Nicholas should have had warning.

"Why, he doesn't know how long I have waited for just such a chance. But you know, Adele, and now—"

He had risen and was approaching the countess with outstretched arms. All that was needed to complete the happy reunion was for her to throw herself into them. However, that was not precisely what happened.

"Nicholas," said the countess reprovingly, "sit down."

"But if you will only just listen to—"

"Please sit down, Nicholas."

Nicholas sat.

"You used to tell me, Adele, that you loved—"

"Did I? It's no wonder, for you were forever mooning around asking me if I did."

"I can imagine no reason why you should refuse to hear me say that I love you and—"

"Well, there is a reason. If there wasn't I should invent one."

"I regret very deeply," he began, with great humility, "that anything I have just said—"

"Now, that's better," said the Countess Vecchi, relenting cheerfully. "When you start regretting very deeply you don't in the least mean it, but you're on the right track. Now forgive me for bringing you up so sharply and let us finish our business. Ought I to accept all this money for those shares?"
